

ProsPay Virtual Terminal™

As long as you have an Internet connection, you can turn a PC into a point-of-sale (POS) device and process transactions from nearly any location. Simply log-in to the Virtual Terminal and ProsPay houses all cardholder information for quick processing and maximum security.

Challenge

Whether entering sales transactions through a single PC or a large call center, traditional Point-of-Sale software applications have created as many challenges as they have benefits. Most of these traditional solutions are cumbersome and costly, requiring software installation, continual upgrades and individual licenses for each PC running the solution. In addition, storing cardholder data represents a serious liability.

Solution

With just a user ID and password, you can log in to the ProsPay Gateway Virtual Terminal and begin processing transactions from almost anywhere with an Internet connection. You can grant access to as many employees as you like, without needing to install additional software or purchase additional licenses. All batches and cardholder data are stored with us – not on the individual PC – so you don't need to worry about data storage. This solution also gives you full reporting capabilities.

How It Works

The ProsPay Gateway Virtual Terminal is Internet based and requires no software to install. Once you log in, you are ready to accept payments. And administrative users are able to grant access to any number of users, who can then immediately begin taking orders and accepting credit and debit cards in addition to electronic checks. This solution also has an easy interface so training is minimal, and our online support is always on call.
